The kids will be learning all about manners this week. They will learn what manners are and how important they are; especially during school. They will understand that manners include saying, “Thank you,” “Please,” and “You’re welcome.” Along with these words, manners are also included in their actions by sitting still at their desk, waiting quietly with their hand raised if they need to ask a question, and being kind to their friends and teachers.

Social/Emotional

This week the children will be learning about families. This includes the ideas, concepts, and values of a family and their own family at home. They will understand that they belong to a family and not all families are the same. There are many different kinds of families with different kinds of members, but what they do have in common is how their family is always there for each other. They do many different activities together. God gave each of us a family to care for us. We can thank God for giving us a home and our amazing and wonderful family.
