

March 22, 2020 OLMC Distance Learning Guide

Good evening & a blessed Sunday to you all!

On March 10th, we all – students, parents, caregivers, faculty, staff and administration – had 24 hours' notice to develop a distance learning plan.

In phase #1, the OMC Administration and Faculty delivered instruction, ensured that all had ample access to WiFi and technology devices, and listened to important feedback.

The attached OLMC Distance Learning Guide will take effect tomorrow, Monday, March 23rd. The OLMC Distance Learning Guide is our best effort to move into phase #2. I am sure that together we will continue to learn and have updated versions of this OLMC Distance Learning Guide, nonetheless, let's move ahead together!

The bright side of all this: each student is learning vital skills for their future! Distance learning will be used in our students' high school, university, and professional lives. Becoming more independent for their own learning is an invaluable skill!

Please join me and the OLMC Faculty & Staff for an OPEN HOUSE ZOOM Night!
