The kids have been adjusting well to their new friends. They have no problem getting along and playing with one another.

They also continue to learn independence by completing certain tasks on their own. An example of this is getting their own lunch bags and opening them without any help.

Physical

During outside recess, the kids have many different activities they enjoy doing. They especially love riding the bikes, playing basketball and soccer, and sliding down the slide. This allows the kids to run around and get their bodies moving!
