Bible verse: Matthew 8:24

Social/Emotional

The kids will be learning all about how God made them. They will be learning about their different body parts and how they are uniquely made by God himself. They will be learning about all their different types of body parts and how God purposely made them to look different from their friends. God knows everything about them, because He made them!

This allows our kids to love and accept themselves just how God loves them.

Physical

It has been raining the past couple of days and so our kids love to do puzzles while inside the classroom! This allows the kids to critically think about where each piece goes and lets them try to fit each piece in its specific spot.

Bible Verse: Matthew 8:27

Social/Emotional

The children will be learning that God made every part of our wonderful world and that He made something even more special: themselves! He knows all things about them because He is God. Since God knows everything about them, they can be sure that He will take good care of them.

By knowing this, the kids will recognize the love that God has for them and that He made them all uniquely special. They will understand that they're not supposed to look exactly like another friend or act like them. This will allow the kids to express themselves in their own way.

Physical

Our teachers will be conducting a directional drawing lesson. The children will draw their own features as they follow the directions step by step. This allows the kids to understand the meaning of up, down, left, and right.
