They have learned to be patient and take turns with the swings and bikes during outside play.

During indoor playtime, they are learning how to share the toys with other friends and to be able to play nicely with one another.

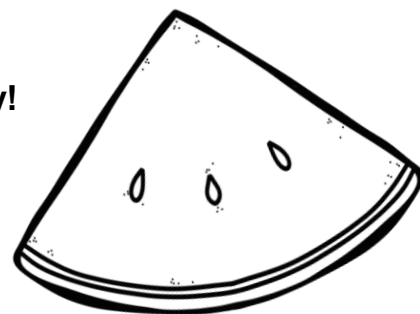

Physical

This week the kids will be playing "Simon Says." This is an amazing way to not only learn different parts of their body; it is also a fun way to get out of their seat and get their body moving. This also enables the kids to use their listening skills and follow instructions.
